INDEX

Daniela Célleri, Tobias Schwarz, Bea Wittger
Introduction: interdependencies of social categorisations in past and present societies of Latin America and beyond ........................................ 7

THEORETICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Floya Anthias
Social categories, embodied practices, intersectionality: towards a translocational approach ............................................................. 27

Sérgio Costa
Entangled inequalities in Latin America: addressing social categorisations and transregional interdependencies .............................................. 41

PERFORMANCES OF IDENTIFICATIONS

Ulrike Schmieder
Interdependencies of class, ethnicity and gender in the postemancipation societies of Martinique and Cuba ................................................... 65

Ezequiel Adamovsky
Cipriano Reyes and the paradox of a non-diasporic “negro” identity in Argentina ................................................................. 91

Dennis Avilés Irabola
Decentralisation and local power relations in Chuquisaca, Bolivia ..... 115

Olena Prykhodko
Creating a feeling of belonging: consumer citizenship as a media project ................................................................. 137
Daniela Célleri
Returning home and being runa. Dynamics of in- and exclusion in an Otavalan village, Ecuador ............................................................. 163

PERMITTING AND DENYING BELONGING

Ursula Regehr
Conceptualising citizenship, belonging and exclusion in the Paraguayan Chaco ................................................................................................ 189

Tobias Schwarz
National belonging in the Dominican Republic. The legal position as an interdependent social categorisation .............................................. 213

Björn Alpermann
Class, citizenship, ethnicity: categories of social distinction and identification in contemporary China ......................................................... 237

UNTANGLING KNOWLEDGE SYSTEMS

Sarah Albies-Wieck
Social categorisations in the Tarascan state. Debates about the existence of ethnicity in prehispanic West Mexico ................................. 265

Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez
Thinking interdependencies. Decolonial feminist perspectives on labour and migration ................................................................. 289

Caroline Braunmühl
“Kultureller Rabatt” (“Culture discount”)? The debate about a “cultural defence” in the criminal law, and what gender has got to do with it ... 311

THE AUTHORS OF THE BOOK ............................................................. 331